Art Unit: 1731

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I, species (a) in Paper dated 5/15/03 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that a search for the elected invention and specie would necessarily entail a search for the non-elected invention and specie. This is not found persuasive because a search for one invention and species would not necessarily entail a search for the other invention and species. Although the searches for each invention and species may overlap, a thorough search for each invention and species would involve unique search areas and considerations.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. Claims 2-9 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention and species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in Paper dated 5/15/03.

3. The title of the invention is not descriptive. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed (i.e. the elected method species).

4. 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, requires the specification to be written in "full, clear, concise, and exact terms." The specification is replete with terms which are not clear, concise and exact. The specification should be revised carefully in order to comply with 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph. Examples of some unclear, inexact or verbose terms used in the specification are:

Page 1, line 7, the term "aplate" is confusing.

Art Unit: 1731

Page 1, line 8, change "semi conductor" to "semiconductor".

Page 1, lines 20-21 are unclear.

Page 3, line 1, the term "dorp" is confusing.

Page 3, line 21, the word "large" is misspelled.

5. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Where a claim sets forth a plurality of elements or steps, each element or step of the claim should be separated by a line indentation. See 37 CFR 1.75(i). See MPEP 608.01(m).

In claim 1, the phrase "the rotating furnace" has no antecedent basis.

In claim 1, the phrase "the furnace bed" has no antecedent basis.

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ikeda et al. (5,762,672).

Ikeda et al. teaches a method comprising the steps of: dropping fused silica powder from the top of the rotating furnace (see e.g. Fig. 3), depositing the fused silica at the center of the furnace bed, and extending the deposit toward the outward of the furnace by heating and rotation of the furnace (see e.g. abstract).
